We miss you so much.
You took us in and helped raised us.
You were like a mom to us.
We have so many cherished memories with you.
We never really had a chance to sit you down.
To tell you how much we deeply loved and appreciated you.
You were our favorite aunt and so understanding.
We will miss your lectures

Obituary

Jessie Mae Horton Battles was born December 5, 1942 to the late Dan Horton, Sr. and Pearl Washington in Estill, South Carolina. She departed this life on Friday, November 5, 2010 after a long illness.

Jessie received her education in the Early Branch School system in Early Branch, South Carolina.

Jessie relocated to Newark, New Jersey in 1959, where she gave birth to two loving children, Stephen Horton who predeceased her and Donyea Chantell Harris. She also raised her great nephew and great niece, Andre and Kokhita Horton.

Jessie met Ronald (Lynn) Perry her long life soul-mate, her best friend, her confidant, they shared more than forty years together. The love they shared was immeasurable. She adored him so much and he was the love of her life.

Jessie was employed by Twin Method Cleaners, in Verona, New Jersey for many years. After many years in the cleaning business Jessie began a career in nursing. She was employed by the Water View Nursing Home, in Cedar Grove, New Jersey and Patient Care, in West Orange, New Jersey until she was no longer able to work because of her illness.

Jessie worshiped at Christian Love Baptist Church in Irvington, New Jersey where she accepted Jesus Christ as her savior.

Jessie greatest love was the love she shared with her family. She loved hosting the family gatherings. The family looked forward to holidays because we knew we would have a good time and a down home cooked meal. Jessie was an excellent cook and we will miss her superb meals. Jessie's home was always open to family as well as friends. She always took an interest in their needs. If you needed some place to rest your head she would never leave you out doors. Jessie was the family "Angel" given to us by God. All, that knew her, will remember her loving and caring spirit. It is hard to say good-bye but we know she was ready to be with her Heavenly Father. We loved her but we understand that God loved her best.

Jessie was predeceased by her sister, Carolyn Horton and grandson, Raheem Smith.

Jessie leaves a legacy of love for: her devoted and loving daughter Donyea Chantell Harris (Wanda); her soul mate, Ronald (Lynn) Perry; great nephew and great niece, Andre Horton and Kokhita Horton; two brothers, Dan Horton, Jr. (Mary) and Eric Wilkerson (Cheryl); one sister, Rose Alston (Clyde); one grandchild, Zamari Harris; two great grandchildren, Tyjuan Davis and Nazir Smith; three aunts, Hollie Rouse (Edward Ray), Leola Owens (Eva) and Renee Owens Holmes (Timothy); two uncles, Ellis Lofter (Mary) and Gene Owens (Yvonne); and a host of extended family and friends.

My Dearest Mother

Mommie words could never express what I am feeling right now. But I want you to know that I LOVE YOU more than life itself. And if I could have taken your place, I would have without a second thought. You have always been my rock,

No matter what I had done good, bad or indifference you were there. Ma it's only been seven days since you've been gone and already it seems like a lifetime. I ask myself what am I gonna do without you and it's so scary, but I must say that through you lives me so I know I will be okay. Ma, on this day if I'm able to stand up in front of all our family and friends and someone asks me, if there was one thing I could say about my mom what would it be. I would say she is my mom and she was the best mom.

(Phenomenal woman she was.)

Love You

Love You

Love You

Your daughter, Donyea

Rest In Peace Mommie
