Reflections of Life

Colette Adjo Boadu was born on 27th July 1965 to the late Louis and Nora Wadewor. She departed this life on December 7, 2010.

Adjo began her education at St. Anthony's Preparatory School and then to Premier International School, she then continued her high school education at Christian Methodist Secondary School all in Accra, Ghana.

Adjo met and married Kofi Safo Boadu in 1990 and this marriage produced a handsome baby boy Kofi Safo Boadu Junior, born on September 30, 1994.

Her hobbies included, cooking, dancing and hanging out with her family.

She worked at Five Star Parking, Newark Airport for the past eleven years.

She was quiet reserved but with family and close friends she was humorous and honest to a fault. Her greatest joy and pride was her special relationship with her family. Her father trained her in the way of the Lord and she never departed from it throughout her life.

She leaves to cherish her memory: her husband, Mr. Kofi Safo Boadu; her son, Kofi Safo Boadu Junior; seven brothers and sisters; nieces and nephews, cousins, uncles, aunts and inlaws.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her nephew, Melvin Elorm Wadewor.

Rest in perfect peace Adjo till we meet again.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us on that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts, We Thank You, Whatever the part.
