Obituary

Tracy Elizabeth Harris entered life on June 6, 1962 at The Bronx Hospital in the Bronx, NYC to Barbara Ann Harris-Grant and Joe Thomas Grant. She left this world to return to her ancestors on December 29, 2010, sometime after texting her son at 7:52 p.m.

Tracy Elizabeth was baptized in the Roman Catholic Church as an infant. Tracy was educated in the NYC Public Schools and graduated from Co-op City High School; now Harry S. Truman High School. She then furthered her education at Bronx Community College, College of New Rochelle and Lincoln Technical Institute, where she would have received her Master's Degree and LPN.

Tracy Elizabeth was cherished by: her son, Tracy Craig Harris; mother, Barbara; brothers, Troy Grant and Micheal Harris; granddaughters, Hánye, Treyanna and Wynter Harris; as well as loads of family and friends.

Tracy was predeceased by her brother, Michael Anthony Harris, father, Joe Thomas Grant, grandmother, Alice Reese Campbell and great grandmother, Lucinda Holland Reese.

Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.

I had to go, I could not stay,
So during the day I slipped away
I love you then, I love you now
But I must leave you for a little while right now,
I've fought a good fight
I've kept my faith.
And now I'll see my Saviors face,
Think of me when the bright sun shines,
Speak of me with a gallant smile.
Again I say goodnight for Jesus
I will meet and my body will rest
Until the day we meet again and
Never forget I love you to the end
So I won't say good bye but goodnight for now...

I want you to know these tears we cry are because we never want to say goodbye;
As we lay you down to rest we hope you are at peace at your best
No more suffering for you, not in the least.
I know that God greeted you at heavens gate
To enter into that beautiful Kingdom
I know you couldn't wait
So you say why cry for me?
I am doing fine, we'll soon meet again,
Although in another lifetime
Until then no more tears and don't be sad
Just treasure those precious moments and times we had.
