Reflections of Life

Zachary A. King, affectionately known as Zacky, Zack and for those who knew him back in the day as Sulamar, was born on June 28th, 1962, to Frankland L. King Sr. and Betty Jean King in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Zachary at a young age relocated to Newark, NJ and was educated in Newark Public Schools. He later moved to East Orange, NJ. He was employed at Essex County College and United Parcel Services until the time of his passing. He was regarded highly by his employers and co-workers.

Zachary enjoyed spending time with his family and friends. Zachary was loved and adored by many. He was a thoughtful, caring and sensitive person with a witty sense of humor; His personality was none other than unique. He had a love for music, cars, bargain shopping, unusual pets, barbecuing come sunshine or snow, and let's not forget he was the number one Fan of the Minnesota Vikings. Zachary became a Viking fan after the passing of his brother Frankland, whom he lost at an early age. His brother Frankland was a Viking fan and Zachary wanted to honor the memory of his brother by becoming a fan too. Zachary in his pursuit of happiness traveled by car to Minnesota to be a part of the Viking experience. When he visited the Viking Stadium he brought along with him a large poster that read "All The Way from New Jersey to Break the Curse". When asked what curse he responded by saying "The fact that y'all have not won a super bowl". They laughed and the players signed his poster. His Family and friends hope and believe that one day the Vikings will win the Super Bowl and we will all think of Zachary and say touchdown.

Zachary leaves to celebrate his life and cherished memories his children, Alaska King, Anthony King Kennedy, his sisters, Remona, Vanessa and Victoria King, his nieces and nephews, Al-Haneef Thomas, Darren Bennett Jr., Carroll Alston III, Wendell Doughty Jr., Stefani Alston, Toney Cowell III, Khristina Holmes and his pet, Spike.

Zachary's passing was sudden, a life not fully fulfilled. Zachary we will miss you and we have truly been blessed to have loved and been loved by you.
