Rosa Lee Cherry-Jones was born to the late Joseph and Maggie (Peele) Cherry in Windsor, North Carolina, April 2, 1941.

At an early age, she joined Mount Olive Baptist Church in Paterson, NJ. In 1994, Rosa moved to Paterson, NJ and later joined Christ Temple Church in Paterson. She attended Medgar Evers College in Brooklyn, NY. Rosa worked for the Board of Education in Brooklyn for many years. She belonged to the Black Ladies Literary Club (BLLC) and the Paterson Adult Day Center and the Wednesday Night Bible Study group.

R Rose the flower of love

O Outgoing and caring

S Sincere and loving

A Always there for others

*Don't spend too much time in mourning,
Tears are for the sad;
I left to be with Jesus
And this should make you glad.
Life here for me was ended,
it came my time to die.
Don't lose the love I gave you spread it everywhere.
We'll have another meeting
In God's eternal day.*
