Obituary
Honoring Mrs. Enid Morris

Conception is a conduit of birth and this journey though takes nine months to materialize, culminates with a slap on your bottom and a cry to inhale the fresh air from God's breath. September 3, 1934 your mother's womb was opened and a promising baby girl appeared. You have been welcomed to a world of opportunities and to a world of challenges.

Your mother have worked laboriously to monitor your life long disposition from elementary school to the day when you became an adult. And now you have reached maturity, you have decided to have children. Here, comes three girls and two boys, but sad to say, the youngest girl was stillborn. Now! The hardworking mantle has fallen upon you and of course you have worked tirelessly to support us throughout life.

My first pair of shoes was from your labor. A unique career was known as domestic helper. You have been employed at various strategic locations in Kingston to finance your family's budget. We, your four children, grew up on your God given principles, and you have instilled in us to respect the Bible's guidelines, and the importance of obtaining an education. For you to finance your family's budget, your mother, which is our grandmother, participate in the training of your children. During this process of dealing with your family's responsibilities, you have met and married the man of your dream Mr. Herby Morris. The marriage last for more than thirty years, and he went to meet his Maker in 1996.

Your children took very good care of you during those years and an opportunity had open its door for you to come to the United States, and you have landed December, 2004. Six and a half year later, April 5, 2011 you went home to see your Heavenly Father. Now! Mother, sleep and take your rest because you have fought a good fight; you have kept the faith and now a crown of righteousness awaits you. Amen and Amen.

2 Timothy 4:7-8

I have fought a good fight,
I have finished my course,
I have kept the faith:
Henceforth there is laid up for me
a crown of righteousness,
which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me at that day.
