Reflections of Life

Kashmír - Angel Sent From Heaven

Our baby boy visited us on his way home. In every waking minute we feel him right here next to us. At first I thought we were fighting letting him go, but now we know we don't ever have to let him go, because he will always walk with us through each day.

God sent us a guardian angel to guide us through life until we meet again. Kashmír came and spent a few minutes with us and in that little time, this little person gave us strength and helped us to love even stronger and to cherish every minute God gives us.

Forever in our hearts,
Adrianna Vazquez
