Reflections of Life

We have come here today to rejoice the life of Jalanda T. Hughley, born in the Bronx, NY on April 28, 1967.

Jalanda attended the New York City Public School system, until she graduated Adlai E. Stevenson High School in 1985. Upon graduating high school, she became employed with N.Y.C.H.A. where she remained for over twenty years of dedicated service.

Jalanda a.k.a. "JJ" as she was referred to by her family and friends loved to read and enjoyed cooking, listening to music. But overall, JJ could be counted on to lend a helping hand to anyone who needed it.

She met John Hughley and married him on March 23, 1991. From that union two children were born, Derrick S. Hughley and Tiara M. Hughley. "JJ" also known as "Auntie La La" touched many lives and will surely be missed.

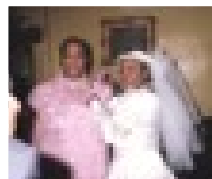

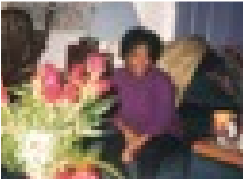

She leaves to mourn: her mother, Nona E. Jones; her mother-in-law, Dolores Hugley; her husband, John; her children, Derrick and Tiara; a brother, Philip R. Jones; a brother-in-law, Ralph Burke, Sr.; a sister, Cecelia R. Burke; two sisters-in-law, Sonia Depugh and Ibtisam Jones; her nephews, Rodney, Jordan and Ralph, Jr.; a great niece, Xiaralis; and a host of other relatives and friends.

*We love you more, but God loved her best.
Humbly Submitted,
The Family*

I am a person that is a strong and confident individual because of my mother. And now that she is gone, I feel a piece of me is shattered. But I know she is looking down on Tiara and I, guiding us through this. She doesn't want us to be sad but it's hard to lose a close friend. I know she wants us to be happy and continue to be the beautiful strong children she has raised. I am very proud and grateful for a wonderful, strong woman. My hero, my heart and my soul will always be with you mami and inside me. Love you always and forever. God bless.
