Obituary

Doris Jean Palmer was born on October 11, 1941 in Tallahassee, Florida to Mary Helen Gray and Rex Gray. Raised in Harlem, New York, Doris was educated in the New York City public schools and graduated with honors from, PS 194, Harriet Beecher Stowe Junior High School and Charles Evans Hughes High School. In June 1962, at St. Aloysius Church, Doris married her friend and companion, William Palmer. From this union they had one beautiful daughter, Michele Denise Palmer.

Doris was lovingly called “Sister DJ” by her sister, Beverly and “Super Sis” by her brother, Rick. She was always a pleasure to be with. Her mother Mary Gray has been her caregiver and mainstay throughout her life, an especially touching and close relationship of love.

Her father, Rex Gray, (deceased) was always proud of his first born. In her early twenties, Doris worked as an office administrator until she became disabled.

Left to remember Doris and her sweet temperament, wonderful sense of humor and caring heart is her mother, Mary Gray; brother, Frederick Gray; sister, Beverly Delgado; daughter, Michele Wright; William Palmer, grandsons Timothy and Tyler Wright, son-in-law, Robert Wright; nephews, Keith Gray and Adam Delgado; niece Shaletta Gray; many longtime friends among them, Janet Coombs and Tyrone Wyatt.

A Sister's Love

*A blend of laughter
Struggle, understanding,
Listening and talking.
Who can measure the depth of
a sister's love.
It holds you up with encouragement.
Corrects you with compassion.
Laughs with you through life's joys, and cries,*

*With you through its disappointments.
I am grateful beyond measure that God gave Doris to us and to me as a sister.
Love is patient, kind and forgiving.
Doris, my sister was all of these and more.
Our family will miss her joy.*
