Obituary

Delivrance Blaise Lanot or “Tantan” as she was lovingly referred to by her family, died on February 16, 2012 at the age of ninety following a long illness.

Delivrance Lanot was born September 7, 1921 in Quartier Morin, Haiti to the late Mathilde Durosier and Leclerc Blaise. She was raised in Quartier Morin where she attended school. Delivrance moved to Cap Haitien where she worked at Hospital Justinien delivering means to patients for a number of years. She was happily married to Riche Lanot until his death.

Delivrance studied the bible with Jehovah's Witnesses and was baptized on January 9, 1970. She was a devoted follower of her faith and was a longtime member of the Far Rockaway Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Delivrance is survived by: her daughter, Rose Marie Mompont Magloire; her grandson, Ramdel Magloire and his wife Lisa Magloire; her granddaughter, Tamara Magloire deSuze and her husband Shaun deSuze; her great-grandchildren, Asia Magloire, Lira Magloire, Lanai Magloire, Alexis deSuze, Layla deSuze, Devin deSuze, Brittany Vieux, Bianca Vieux and Marjorie Vieux; her nieces, Therese Blaise and Martine Benoit; her nephew, Yves Jean. She is further survived by many additional family members and friends.

Following the interment, family and friends are invited to the repast.

John 5: 28, 29

"Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgement."

Acknowledgements

The family would like to acknowledge with deep appreciation the many comforting messages, floral tributes, prayers and other expressions of kindness and concern evidenced in this time in thought and deed. They would like to give special thanks to the home attendants, Elda, Nelta and Nicole who provided loving care and assistance to Delivrance over her long illness.
