Reflections of Life

Beloved Son And Brother

Dwayne Edward Brisbon

Dwayne Edward Brisbon born August 6, 1978. He was preceded in death by his father, Aaron Brisbon, Jr. and his grandparents.

Dwayne departed this life on May 1, 2012, at Howard University Hospital in Washington, DC.

He was a friendly outgoing person, loved his family and especially talking to his brother Aaron and his baby sister Nisa. Now being a father is ideal in life was to raise his son and be the best father he could be. His other passion was having fun and talking to his friends and listening to music with his best and childhood friend Anthony, cooking, roller skating, basketball and motorcycle riding.

He was educated in the Paterson School System (St. Joseph Parochial School and Paterson Catholic High School). After graduating Dwayne decided to serve his country and enlisted in the Armed Forces (Army) from 1996 to 1999 he also served in the reserves until 2004. He relocated to Upper Marlboro, MD. He was employed at the Washington Hospital Center for twelve years as an Radiology Technician and had a nickname of SUPERSTAR and recently promoted to a Senior CT Scan Technologist Supervisor.

Dwayne is survived by: his son, Anthony Brisbon; mother, Linda Cooper; step-father, Frank Cooper; brother, Aaron Tyrone Brisbon; sister, Nisa Brianna Cooper; fiancée, Marquita Foster; three step-sisters, Diane Cooper of Syracuse, New York, Darlene Cooper of Hartford, Conn and Verletta McCutchen (Rev. A. McCutchen) of Paterson, New Jersey; best friend, Anthony Reed; and a host of other relatives and a multitude of friends and acquaintances.

Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,*

Why cry for a soul set free?

*Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.*

*Remember the love
that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.*

*For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.*

*It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.*

*Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
