Reflections of Life

Dennis Fulmore was born on June 25, 1965 in Lake City, South Carolina to the union of Roosevelt and Patsy Fulmore, Sr.

Dennis later moved to New Jersey with his parents and siblings to Englewood, New Jersey. He attended the elementary schools in Englewood.

The Fulmores relocated to Paterson in 1973, Dennis attended schools #16, #15, Martin Luther King, Jr. and later graduated from East Side High School. Dennis also attended the Boys Club of Paterson, where he became an excellent swimmer and a spectacular pool player followed by the talent of his father and eldest brother.

Dennis enjoyed watching movies with his brother, riding motorcycles and boxing. Dennis was known widely for his sense of humor, making jokes and as we say in the south (toting news) a southern term for gossiping.

Dennis had a great love for his sons, nieces, nephews and all the children that he came in contact with.

Dennis was employed by the Paterson Public Library, Paramus Maintenance Company and former employee of Paterson Board of Education.

Predeceased by his mother, Patsy R. Fulmore, aunt, Stella Myers and brother, Ricky Lee Fulmore.

Leaves to cherish: sons, Dennis Xavier and Christopher Fulmore; his father, Roosevelt L. Fulmore, Sr. (Dorothy); two stepsons, Tyreek and Andre Fuller; one brother, Roosevelt Fulmore, Jr.; five sisters, Lisa, Sheila, Anita, Jennifer and Tashiba; two step siblings, Christopher Eaddy and Leslie Delvin; uncles, Cecil (Lillermæ), James Lee (Koberta) and Dr. Joseph Fulmore (Virginia); aunts, Pauline Williams and Hazel Mcleod (Karl); three nieces, Dyesha Fulmore, Manijah and Zahmija; two great nieces, Tatiyana and Janyia Fulmore; two nephews, Olojuwon Fulmore and Zamir McCollum; two step nephews, Darnell and Christian Eaddy; a godson, Shawn Hardy; and three special friends, Prince, Monk and Karl.

Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
