A Father

*A father is a friend, a shoulder when you need
And when you are in trouble, Daddy's there in deed.
When it seems the world's against you, Daddy's right there on your side. To show you that he cares and you no longer need to hide. When you feel left in the dark, all alone and cold. Daddy's little word can make you feel so bold. Daddy knows when something's wrong or when you need his care and because he has these senses, you can count on him being there. So my poem comes to an end, Yes me Daddy's little girl and though he's no longer here, He's the best Daddy in the world.*

Reflections of Life

Elmore "Duke" Clark, Jr. was born on September 7, 1949 to Elmore Clark, Sr and the late Winifred Johnson Clark. He was born in Hackensack, NJ where he attended Hackensack Public Schools.

Elmore was employed as a Truck Driver most of his adult life, which he enjoyed more than anything, until his health failed, requiring him to give it up.

He was an avid reader, and he loved spending time with family and friends. Elmore had two great loves, computers which he loved repairing, and his wife Joyce Clark, whom he met and married in 1985.

Duke was preceded in death by his mother, Winifred Johnson Clark; son, Elmore Clark III; sister, Janice Davis and his mother-in-law, Betty Webb.

He leaves to cherish fond memories: his loving and devoted wife, Joyce Webb Clark; father, Elmore Clark, Sr.; sister, Janet "Birdie" Clark; son, Malik Alexander-Clark (Monica); daughter, Wakeema Cummings (Marvin); two sisters-in-law, Bondell Webb and Doretha Cress; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives, friends and neighbors.
