Obituary

Marlon Andre Gomes, was born September 22, 1968 in Georgetown, Guyana. He was one of the six kids to Beryll and Titon Gomes. At the age of fourteen Marlon knew that he loved fixing cars and started doing mechanic work. In 1992, he met Nalini Singh and a year later had his first child Natalia. In 1995, he had his second child and first son, Kemo. In 1997, he married Nalini. They later went on to have two more sons Torrel and Matthew.

In America, he continued to do what he loved doing best, fixing cars. He was so good at what he did. He taught a lot of other mechanics what they know, including his nephew, Stephen. He gained a lot of friends and was loved by many. At parties friends and family remember him for always getting up and wanting to dance. He was always ready to to give a helping hand to anyone in need of help. To many he was known as Brando. He will continue to live on in hearts of many.

He leaves behind: his wife, Nalini Gomes and their four kids together, Natalia, Kemo, Torrel and Matthew Gomes. He also leaves behind: his mother, Beryl; father, Titian; four sisters, Patricia, Christine, Michelle and Ashley; two brothers, Rapheil and Paul. Along with his favorite niece, Tiffany; and many more nieces and nephews. He also leaves behind many, many friends.

Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.

I'm Free

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me
I took his hand when I heard Him call
I turned my back and left it all.
I could not stay another day.
To laugh, to love, to work or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I found that peace at the close of day.
If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it up with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Oh, yes these things I too will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, I savored much.
Good friends, good times,
a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free!
