

Afterglow

*I'd like the memory of me
 To be a happy one,
 I'd like to leave an afterglow
 Of smiles when day is done.
 I'd like to leave an echo
 Whispering softly down the ways,
 Of happy times and laughing times
 And bright and sunny days.
 I'd like the tears of those who grieve
 To dry before the sun,
 Of happy memories that I leave behind,
 When the day is done.*

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.
 Perhaps you sent a floral piece if so, we saw it there.
 Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.
 Perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us on that day.
 Whatever you did to console our hearts, We Thank You, Whatever the part.

Obituary

Yasmin Algarin was born in Newark, New Jersey on September 8, 1980 to Marguerite Velez and Osvaldo Algarin and was the beloved granddaughter of Jose and Lucila Alicea. She was the second oldest of four sisters. She was educated in the Newark and Elizabeth school systems and graduated from Elizabeth High School.

After receiving her diploma, she continued her education at Harrison Career Institute to become a clinical medical assistant. Her dedication and strong work ethic landed her a job at UMDNJ and later at NJ Sports Medicine working alongside Dr. Gerard Malanga, who became her mentor. As a committed and beloved worker, the office was a second home to her.

In 2007, she married her high school sweetheart Latif North on the beaches of Puerto Rico. Four years later, they were blessed to welcome two beautiful children into their family; Niles and Nylah, whom she loved dearly.

Although her life was shorter than most would hope, it was fuller than many will ever have. A loving mother of two, a friend to many, she shined from the inside out. Everyone who met her, loved her and was inspired by her. Despite what life threw at her, she always maintained a thankful loving heart and a contagious smile. She believed its better to look at the glass as half full rather than half empty. We will forever remember her in our hearts and carry a piece of her within us as she did, like EVERY day was her last, loving with everything she had and finding the good in the bad.

Yasmin, we love you and look forward to seeing you again one day; singing with the choir of angels. Rest peacefully my love.
