

Crossing Over There

*They day has come and gone...
My Lord has called me home
I am crossing over life's river
To God I must be did delivered
The life I lived was not in vain,
But because of it, I have Heaven to gain
I am with Jesus; I'm right by his side
I am his, and He is mine
Breanna, Idris and Omar, don't you fret...
And all my grand babies don't be upset
My God had called me to a better place
I've waited a long time to see his face
I'm in a beautiful place
Not made by man's hand
I made it to God's paradise,
His heavenly land...
Be glad for me
I hurt no more
I'm not gone,
I've just crossed over.

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us on that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts, We Thank You, Whatever the part.

Obituary

As the dawn of a new day approached on July 31, 2013, God set an angel to reclaim our dear mother and carry her safely home to forever be with Jesus.

Mrs. Montie McCray King was born in Newark, NJ, on May 8, 1956 to the late Catherine Grayer and Flint McCray. Montie was educated in East Orange School system. She was a preschool teacher and entrepreneur better known as a Jack of all Trades.

Mrs. King as she was often known was a loving friend and a mother to many. She loved to dress and shop. Her favorite places to go was New York, Beach and Florida. She had a fetish for making and selling baskets. She loved her strawberry short cake, lemon cake and pizza. She would go off if you didn't get her pizza from a specific place.

She always had a definite opinion about a situation and was quick to let you know about it. Her way was the right way. Whether you knew it or not.

She is survived by her three children, Breaunna Manirah Chane McCray, Idris Zakee McCray and Omar Rajah McCray who preceded her in death; her three grandchildren, Donyae Lawson, Ajeeah McCray and Naseer Wilkerson; four brothers and sisters, Shirley Lee, Flint McCray, Jr., Kevin McCray and Katherine McCray; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends. She loved all of her family very much.

She will forever be loved. She will forever be missed.
