Obituary

Delores Earley was born in New York City on June 4, 1936 to Mercia France Lynn. She was the youngest of her predeceased siblings, Gloria Atkins and William E. Lynn.

Delores was educated in the New York Public School system and graduated from Wadleigh High School. She always found work in her neighborhood. Delores also worked at Isabella Nursing Home taking care of others.

Delores met and married the love of her life Charles Earley and devoted herself to him. They were married for forty-three years.

Later in life Delores accepted Christ as her Savior and joined First Corinthians Baptist Church.

Delores was a knowledgeable person who put forth determined effort to receive justice where ever she saw injustices. She would encourage and help others to do the same.

Delores Earley departed this life on Thursday, November 20, 2013.

She leaves to mourn: her beloved husband, Charles Earley; her niece and special friend, Linda Story; nieces, Marcia Caswell and Cheryl Lynn; her nephew and special friend, William Story; nephews, Clarence Stuart, James Johnson and Bennie Caswell; great nieces, Pamela, Tanya, Jill, Pat, Nicole, Lisa Ebony and Tarina; her great nephews, James, Kenneth, Johnathan and William III; and a host of great great nieces, nephews and loving friends.

Respectfully Submitted,
her family

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
