Obituary

Ray Foreman affectionately known as “Uncle Bud”, was born September 28, 1957 to the late Joseph Foreman and Josie Foreman in Ahoskie, North Carolina. He was the youngest of ten children, who had attended elementary school in North Carolina.

Ray moved to New Jersey with his family. He later attended West Side High School with some of his nieces, nephews and cousins which he was very close with.

Ray was a man that was full of character and had a bazaar sense of humor, which inclined loving fried chicken and could persuade a person to see his point even though you would not agree. He also had charm and could turn it on and off to make a person laugh. There was no telling what Ray was capable of, but he loved to enjoy life his way.

He leaves for his new home to join his belated family members which include his mother, father, three sisters, one brother, some nieces, nephews and cousins. He also leaves behind to cherish his memory: his son, Ivory Ray Nixon; two brothers and four sisters; and a host of family members and friends to cherish his memory.

Psalm 19:1-9

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun, Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race. His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.
