Obituary

It is with a profound sorrow that the Mack family announces the home going of their beloved Joseph Mack, which occurred on January 1st, 2014 at 7:10 am.

Joseph Mack, known as Papa Mack, Black Man, Uncle Bo, or simply just Poppa, was born on December 11, 1950, unto the union of Author, and Emma Mack. Joseph Mack was the only child from his mother Emma Mack. He also had a half sibling by the name of Author Mack, Jr.

He obtained his education through the Harlem Teams Trade School in the year of 1969. With the trade and skills he has obtained from Harlem Teams, he then went into being an A Man Parking Attendant. In the Kenny garage system. Where he then became a member in the teamsters local 272. Joseph Mack always had his own vision and ambition of being his own boss. His first business was Vending. He then started his own battery business called "DEPENDABLE BATTERIES" located in the Bronx, from the years of 2001-2005. However, being a dedicated husband and father with constant desire to enhance his ability to provide for his family, he took on numerous jobs, where he then retired from amalgamated garage, in the year of 2008.

In the year 1973, Joseph Mack married his high school sweet heart Debra Yevette Ancrum on July 22, 1973. The union was blessed with two daughters, Danielle and Adriane Mack. The marriage endured for forty one blissful years until Poppa went to his Lord and Savior. During those years his words of inspiration and those ever so steady, guiding hands will be forever missed. Besides him always telling it like it is to his every black man and black women, he was always their for you.

Those left behind to cherish all of those wonderful memories are: his loving wife, Debra Mack; his daughters, Danielle and Adriane Mack; six wonderful grandchildren, Darryl, Symone, Dasani, Danashia, Darlene and Dontae Mack; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and dear friends.

Your departure from this earth leaves a soreness in our hearts and an empty chair at our table; but we say good bye for now. Until we shall see each other again.

Remember Me

*To the living, I am gone,
To the sorrowful I will never return,
I am at peace with myself and the Lord,
I cannot speak, but I can listen
I cannot be seen but I can be heard,
So remember me in your heart and thoughts,
Remember me in your memories,
Remember me of the times we loved,
Remember me of the times we laughed,
Remember me of the times we cried,
Remember me of the times we fought
And always remember me of the times we lived together.
I am resting in peace with the highest hope that some day we shall all unite again in God's Kingdom.*
