Obituary

Rose Lee Brown was born on June 29th, 1945 to the union of John and Cleo Amiker in Orangeburg, South Carolina.

New York is where Rose met and married the love of her life, Carl Edward Brown in 1972. Their union lasted for forty-two years.

Rose was the big sister to John, Joann, Mary, Sarah and Roy.

Rose loved children and worked many years at P.S. 200 in Harlem, where she provided guidance to future generations with all her heart. After retiring from her position as a Parents Teacher's Aid, she continued her fashion of love and grace with taking on the responsibility of at home childcare and foster care for family and friends.

Rose was a mom to everyone who needed someone to talk and listen to, or a place to eat and rest. She enjoyed opening her doors and having a good time being around her loved ones and especially adored watching those around her enjoying themselves.

Rose leaves to cherish and celebrate her life and memory: her husband, Carl Sr., Sons, Carl Jr. and Eric; brother, John; sisters, Joann and Mary; daughters-in-law, Celes and Dani; grandchildren, Eric Jr., Ciré, Aaliyah and another grandchild due in around spring. She also leaves a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

Although we will deeply miss Rose and are saddened by her passing, we let her go joyously, celebrating her sixty-nine years of life.

Our moms like all moms, committed herself to the sorority of motherhood. Pledging to love unconditionally, to teach, to support, to sacrifice, to discipline, to protect and a bunch of other motherly acts. We can't even begin to express how grateful we are and proud to be your sons.

We dedicate this Yellow Rose to you Ma. Yellow because it is your favorite color, and The Rose, one of the most beautiful and beloved flowers in the world, for which you are named after. It only exemplifies the person you are to your family and friends.

*We do believe you are in a better place and at peace. Thank you for everything, we love you Ma and miss you...
muah muah mauh "she's our favorite girl" ...*

Acknowledgement

*The family acknowledges with deep appreciation all acts of kindness extended to them during this bereavement hour.
May God bless you for all your thoughtfulness and concern.*
