Obituary

Alma Mae Cooper White was born on May 18, 1929, in Windsor, NC to the late Mormon Harris and Emmaline Jones.

She spent her childhood years there with her cousin, Helen Cherry. Alma relocated to New York, NY in her teenage years where she later met John A. Cooper Sr. The two married in December 1946 and decided to start a life together in Ossining, NY. To this union two loving children were born, Sandra and John Jr.

While in Ossining, Alma became a devoted member of Star of Bethlehem Church. In 1970, her husband, John Cooper Sr. passed.

In the late 70's Alma met her soulmate and life long partner, Mr. Walter White, whom she later married. Alma retired from the New York State Department of Social Services after 30 years of service. She and Walter moved to Tarrytown, NY, where they happily lived out the rest of their years.

Alma Mae Cooper White was a strong, intelligent and determined woman. She leaves to cherish her memory, a granddaughter, Kimberly Sullivan and her husband, Darryl Sullivan; three beautiful great grandchildren, Aliyah, Aasim, and Aamyr; and a host of other relatives.

On September 25, 2014 Alma Mae Cooper White joined her soulmate and children in heaven. She will be missed dearly.

Miss Me – But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for soul set free?
Miss me a little – but not too long.
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared.
Miss me – but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
a step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart,
go to the friends we know.
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me – but let me go.
