Obituary

“Loving Father, Husband, and Friend”

On his birthday, Monday, November 24, 2014, the good Lord peacefully took Rupert Alfonzo Rose home to His heavenly gates.

Rupert Rose was born on November 24, 1934, in Linstead, St. Catherine, Jamaica to the late Albertha Francis and father Mr. Rose. Rupert Rose was the second born of four. He graduated from Mico College in Kingston, Jamaica.

He later worked as an insurance agent for various companies and was also a tax agent. He currently was married to Deloris Deans-Rose lovingly known as “Dee.” They had two children Rudella Jameka Deans-Smith and Rashad Rose. He also was married to the late Avril Delcita Williams-Rose affectionately known as “Betty.” They had three sons: Weston Rose, Courtney Rose, Dean Rose, and two daughters: Donna Rose-McLeod, and Sonja Rose.

He also leaves to cherish his memories: son, Patrick Rose, brother, Roy Wilson, sister, Beverly Wilson, a host of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, other relatives and many friends.

Rupert had an adamant way of thinking and doing things. It was his way or the highway and you just had to respect him for that. He was passionate and well known for his way around the kitchen. He never followed many recipes and would simply use a pinch of this and a pinch of that and the collaborations of spices, seasonings and love would create a mouth-watering and finger-licking dish each time. His grandson Michael Smith would always say “grand-daddy is like a real chef.” He always spoke about opening his own restaurant, but never got around to doing it.

Precious Memories
