Pass Away

To my family and to all my friends
To everyone I had to leave behind
I must now cross over to the other side
I must leave it's now my time

As I lay here to see each one of you
Some in disbelief, some with tears in your eyes
Just remember I love you all
Your hearts will heal in time

To all the ones I loved
Your memories will never fade
I'll be here waiting for you
When it becomes your day
When you pass away

Don't let life bring you down
I am resting now in eternal peace
With each rising sun there comes a new day
You will open your eyes and see
So dry your eyes my loved ones
For I will always be by your side
For now and forever in your hearts
Until the end of time.
