Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow

Yesterday's dead, tomorrow's unborn.
So there's nothing to fear and nothing to mourn.
For all that is past and all that has been
Can never return to be lived once again..
And what lies ahead or the things that will be
Are still in God's hands, so it is not up to me
To live in the future that is God's great unknown.
For the past and the present
God claims for his own...

So all I need do is to live for today
And trust God to show me the truth and the way.
For it's only the memory of things that have been
And expecting tomorrow to bring trouble again
That fills my today, which God wants to bless
With uncertain fears and borrowed distress...
For all I need live for is this one little minute.
For life's here and now and eternity's in it.

Reflections of Life

Norman Richard Hurling was born on October 22, 1935 in Elizabeth, New Jersey, son of the late Juanita (Wilson) Hurling and Clifford W. Hurling, Sr. He received his education in the Roselle Public School system and graduated from Abraham Clark High School in Roselle, New Jersey.

Norman enlisted in the United States Air Force and served from 1954 to 1959 during the Korean War. Norman was self-employed and owned operated N&S Painting and Floor Sanding. In his down time he loved the horse track and enjoyed spending time with family and friends.

In 1951 he met the love of his life Vivian C. Lucas and they wed on January 26, 1959. From this union they were blessed with 2 children, a daughter, Norma R. Hurling, a son Scott R. Hurling (deceased) and a foster daughter Yolanda Smith.

On February 6, 2015, surrounded by his loving family at Robert Wood Johnson Hospital in Rahway, New Jersey at the age of 79, Norman Richard Hurling departed his life.

He was predeceased by his son Scott R. Hurling, his sisters, Marjorie (Hurling) Able, Sylvia Hurling, and Gwendolyn Hurling and his brothers, Clifford (Sonny) Hurling, Jr., Alfred Hurling, Raymond Hurling, Clarence Hurling and Dennis Hurling.

He leaves to cherish his memory, his beloved wife of 56 years, Vivian C. Hurling (Lucas), his daughter, Norma R. Hurling and foster daughter, Yolanda Smith (Sam); one grandson Omar R. Davis (Damaris); two granddaughters, Tashawna Smith and Tajuana Smith; four great-granddaughters and one great-grandson; two sisters, Marilyn (Hurling) Carolina and Beatrice (Hurling) Hall; one sister-in law, Mary Hurling and one brother-in-law, Marvin Lucas and a host of nieces, nephews and friends
