Obituary

Inez Scott was born on July 4, 1923 to the late Hamp and Etta Eurie, in Charleston, South Carolina.

She received her education in the public school of Charleston, South Carolina.

Inez spent her early years in Charleston, SC. She was a devoted member of Saint James Presbyterian Church. She became a military bride after she married the love of her life, the late Benjamin Scott.

The couple later moved to New York City. She joined Greater Central Baptist Church, where she continued her devotion to her Savior Jesus Christ. Inez loved serving on the Senior Usher Board, singing on the Evangelistic choir and attending BTU on Sunday evenings.

Inez worked many years doing domestic work and assisting with the care of client's family. When she retired, she continued to assist others in the community. She voluntarily met the children after school and assisted them home from the bus stop. Sometimes caring for them until their parents, secured them after work. She was kind and loving to everyone who knew her. Inez counseled many people about family life. She never grew tired. She often said "look to the hills."

Inez leaves to carry on her legacy: two daughters, Florence Smalls and Bertha Aiken; a son, Benjamin E. Scott, and James Urie, her beloved son who preceded her. She leaves to carry on her memory: three sisters, Evelyn Forrest, Sarah Brisbane and Miley Bryant; three brothers, Alonzo Eurie, Harry Eurie and Daniel Eurie (who preceded her); one daughter-in-law, Josephine Urie; two sons-in-law, James Smalls, Sr. (preceded her) and Nathaniel Wilson, Sr.; two brothers-in-law; nine grandchildren; twenty-two great-grandchildren; eight great-great grandchildren; twenty nieces and nephews; great nieces and nephews; and a host of other relatives and friends. The family is content knowing that the Savior loved her more and she is well.

Shadow

Although the road seems rough and you don't have a friend to call
Just close your eyes and let the Savior guide you Trust in Him remember that the Savior is always with you
He is your friend until the end,
He is your shadow
