Obituary

Eleanor M. Mulligan was born August 17, 1934 to Lazarus and Ethel Mulligan. Also known as “Norah”, she was the matriarch of the family. She lived in Harlem her entire life.

She worked for the telephone company. Then as a toll collector and finally as an accountant for the Port of Authority until retiring in 1995.

She attended P.S. 90 Elementary School, 136 Junior High School, Washington Irving High School and graduated with a degree in law from John Jay College.

She didn't give birth to any children, but she had a direct hand in raising three of her nieces and indirectly taking care of countless other nieces and nephews. She was known for her intelligence, generosity and her take charge personality.

Norah was all about family and friends. If you wanted or needed anything, she'd find a way to make your dream come true. She'd also set you straight when needed. She could be bossy, stern or funny and sweet, depending on what you deserved. She always put others before herself. She loved to travel. She enjoyed playing tennis. She loved to read and her hobbies were knitting, drawing and painting.

Norah leaves to mourn her passing: her sister, Ethel; brother, Allen; sisters-in-law, Ione and Suzy; her nieces, Pat, Sandra, Deanna, Robyn, Denise, Jamar, Michelle and Margie; her nephews, Ricky, Damon, Derrick, Craig and James; grandnieces, Theda, Makada and Miriam; grandnephews, Marcis and Myles; and countless other relatives in the Continental U.S. and St. Croix. She also leaves to mourn: a host of childhood friends from 154th and 153rd Street and considered them to be her extended family. By sooo.... many, she will be missed more than anyone can imagine.
