Obituary

Sadie Beatrice Brantley was born July 23, 1945 to the late Cleaster Brady Hockaday and Cleveland Fields in Scotland Neck, North Carolina.

She later married the love of her life, James R. Brantley and moved to New York City. Sadie was a devoted wife and an extraordinary mom, grandmother and friend. Those who knew her loved her and adored her cooking. Not only did she open her heart to everyone, she also opened her home to many for a place to rest or to enjoy a good home cooked meal. She was a loving generous person, who spent her days not only taking care of her family but also feeding and caring for her elderly and sickly friends.

Sadie was an outspoken individual who had no problem expressing her opinion. She said what she meant and she meant what she said.

Sadie was married to the late James R. Brantley for almost 48 years until he was called home. Now she joins him and they now live on through their loving family. Sadie had several siblings who preceded her in death.

She is survived by: her three children, Sonja Brantley, Shawn Brantley, his wife, Kameo Brantley, and Rhonda Hicks and her husband, Robert Hicks; fifteen grandchildren, Apresha, Terrell, Davoone (RIP), Quanisha, Tyquira, Shawnese, Shawnell, Danielle, Tiffany, Miasha, Rayshawn, Tyzhana, Robert, Kani and Tyzhae; seven great grands, Genesis, Taylen, Mason, Khalia, Tahrye, Tiana and Emma; three brothers, Cleveland, Virgil and Norman; one sister, Blanche; three sisters-in-law, Phyllis Tillery wife of the late Curtis Tillery, Maime Boone wife of the late Robert Boone and Beatrice Brantley wife of George Brantley and one brother-in-law, Waverly Brantley; and a host of nieces, nephews, family and friends.

You will be missed Sweet Sadie!

*Sweet Sadie was here,
But now I've been called home.
Don't be upset, we all must move on.
We will meet again, in time you'll see,
But it's not your turn,
this time it just me.
Remember my smile,
Remember my face
And know I'm in a better place.
No more aches,
No more pains,
You letting me go
is all that remains.
We will meet again, trust and believe
But until then you have to set me free.
Cherish our moments,
Cherish our past,
Take a deep breath...
I'm Free At Last*
