Obituary

Pooran Deo Marajh died peacefully surrounded by his family, after a lengthy illness on September 20, 2016 at St. Barnabas Medical Center. Deo was born on September 26, 1945 in Trinidad and Tobago.

He was married to our mother, Toyina for fifty-four years and had two daughters, Barbara and Ann-Marie. He had one granddaughter, Sheridan whom he loved and treasured dearly and who could do no wrong in his eyes.

He migrated with our mother to the USA at the age of fifty to be with his two daughters.

Deo worked at the Heyward Elementary School for many years. He loved his job and loved his fellow co-workers including the teachers and staff of Heyward Elementary. He said he always felt like family when he was amongst them. He retired in 2014 because of his ailment, and hated that he had to leave them.

Our father loved to sing and play his organ, even when he could not pull another note because of his lungs; he tired until the very end. He loved his religious classical music and it gave him comfort and peace to sing and express joy to other people.

Our father was the patriarch, and his family always came first. This loss seems unbearable for us and we pray that he can now rest in peace after his long illness, knowing our love for him will never end. Even though he is no longer with us in life, he will forever be in our hearts and the hearts of everyone he touched.

Deo lovingly leaves behind his dear and loving wife, Toyina of fifty-four years, his two daughters, Barbara and Ann-Marie, his granddaughter, Sheridan; his son-in-law, Mike; his nieces, Silvy, Rajmatee, Patsy and Annie; his nephews, Darryl, Persad, Simon, Jagdesh and Nari; his cousins, Batie, Sally, Sandra, Radica (and the rest of that family). To Daisy, Lizzy, Shyanne and Maya, our father considered you all his own. Not forgetting a host of other family and friends too numerous to mention.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites
in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.*

*Remember the love
that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey
that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us on that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts, We Thank You, Whatever the part.
