Obituary

Fay Patricia Chong was born on November 20, 1936 in Kingston, Jamaica to the late Ivy Warmington and Walter Chong.

Fay left Jamaica in her late teens, while in her early 20's she moved to England in search of better opportunities. In 1964, she moved to America. She worked in a factory for a few years. She later became a certified Nursing Assistant. She was an outstanding private nursing assistant working for rich and affluent clients for many years. They loved and adored her strong work-ethic, often requesting her to stay longer or return to care for their loved ones. She loved to work making money to buy the things she wanted and to provide for her children. She had a big heart and was not only extremely generous to her loved ones but also to numerous charities.

She was of the Catholic faith. She was a woman of incredible strength, grit, resilience, authenticity, independence, cleanliness, and organization. She had zero-tolerance for laziness and mediocrity. Fay raised her children with an 'iron-fist' with those same values. They were taught whatever you do, do it with a spirit of excellence, not mediocrity. She lived and spoke her truth with no pretense. She always stayed true to who she was and not to what people wanted her to be. She was a woman of amazing strength both internally and externally. She loved her children, her grandsons, great-grandson, beautiful things, and her home.

Fay was preceded in death by her parents; son, Michael Ruddock; daughters, Marcia Ruddock and Patricia Herbert; and brother, Clive Chong.

She leaves to cherish her memory: two daughters, Ann Marie Ruddock and Deborah Herbert; a son, Robert, Jr. and his wife, Jacqueline Herbert; four grandsons, Kirk Johnson, Brandon Johnson, Chauncey, Herbert and Darius Herbert; one great-grandson, Kirk D. Johnson; her sister, Judith Muir; her brother, Walter Chong; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

We will miss you but you will never be forgotten. Long live with Jesus in eternity!

Our Mother

Our mother is a woman like no other. She gave us life, nurtured us, taught us, dressed us, fought for us, held us, shouted at us, kissed us, but most importantly loved us unconditionally.

There are not enough words we can say to describe just how important our mother was to us, and what a powerful influence she continues to be...

Mother, We Love You.
