

I'M FREE

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me
I took his hand when I heard Him call

I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day.

To laugh, to love, to work or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I found that peace at the close of day.

If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it up with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Oh, yes these things I too will miss.

Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.

My life's been full, I savored much.
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch.

Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.

Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free!

Precious MEMORIES

Trudy Campbell-Smith was born on February 21, 1968, in Jamaica, W.I., to Lisa and Lloyd Campbell. She spent her early childhood in the close-knit rural community of Glengoffe, nestled in the hills of Saint Catherine, Jamaica. Glengoffe always held a special place in her heart. It was there that she formed many of her most treasured childhood memories, and throughout her life she faithfully returned each year to reconnect with the family, lifelong friends, and beloved community that remained so dear to her.

For 38 wonderful years, Trudy shared an extraordinary marriage with her devoted husband, Dwight. Together, they built a life grounded in love, faith, laughter, and unwavering commitment. They were truly inseparable, embracing every season of life side by side. Whether traveling the world, enjoying spirited debates, or simply creating a home filled with warmth and unconditional love, they cherished every moment together. Their greatest joy was raising their two beloved daughters, Alisia and Jessica, and later welcoming four precious grandchildren, who became the light of Trudy's life and brought her immeasurable happiness.

Trudy proudly dedicated 40 years of faithful service to RBC Royal Bank, where she earned the admiration and respect of colleagues and clients alike. She was known not only for her professionalism, integrity, and unwavering work ethic but also for the kindness, compassion, and genuine care she extended to everyone she encountered. She had a remarkable ability to make people feel seen, heard, and valued, leaving a lasting impression on all who had the privilege of knowing her.

To know Trudy was to experience unconditional love. Strong yet gentle, compassionate, generous, and selfless, she was a constant source of encouragement and support for her family, friends, and anyone in need. Blessed with a large and close-knit family, she treasured the relationships she shared with her siblings and cousins, many of whom were among her closest friends. Nothing brought her greater joy than gathering with the people she loved most. She was the heart of every family celebration, a pillar of strength, a steady source of wisdom, and a radiant light whose presence brought comfort, laughter, and unity wherever she went.

Her Christian faith was the cornerstone of her life and the source of her strength. She gave her life to the Lord and was baptized in a flowing river in Jamaica, a sacred moment she cherished deeply. She found immense joy in worshipping, walking along the river, dancing with her family, and creating lasting memories with those she loved. Her faith was evident not only in her words but in the grace, humility, and love with which she lived each day.

Trudy leaves to cherish her precious memory her devoted husband, Dwight Smith; her beloved daughters, Alisia Smith and Jessica Smith; her loving mother, Lisa Willis; her cherished grandchildren Isaiah, Cameron, Zahir, and Zhuri; and a large extended family of siblings, cousins, nieces, nephews, relatives, and dear friends whose lives were forever touched by her love, generosity, and unwavering spirit.

Although our hearts are heavy with sorrow, we find comfort in knowing that Trudy has been welcomed into the eternal presence of the Lord she loved and faithfully served. Her legacy of unwavering faith, unconditional love, kindness, strength, and selfless devotion will continue to live on in the countless lives she touched. She will be forever loved, forever remembered, and deeply missed until that glorious day when we are reunited again.
