With love, gratitude, and cherished memories, we celebrate the remarkable life of Desmond Allison Dennis, who fell asleep in death on July 18, 2026, at the age of 85. Though he is no longer with us in person, his legacy of strength, love, and generosity will continue to live on in the hearts of all who knew and loved him.

Desmond was born on July 23, 1940, in Kingston, Jamaica. He later made his home in Queens, New York at the age of 39, where he built a life defined by hard work and resilience. Through every stage of his life, he left a lasting impact on those around him with his unwavering spirit and genuine demeanor.

A skilled mechanic by trade, Desmond took great pride in his work and was always willing to lend a helping hand. Whether repairing something that was broken or offering advice and encouragement, he believed in helping others whenever he could.

Desmond will be remembered as a bold, brave, and straightforward man who always spoke his mind. Beneath his strong exterior was a deeply caring heart. He showed love through his actions, extending kindness and generosity to family, friends, neighbors, and even those he had just met. His willingness to give, support, and uplift others left a lasting impression on everyone who knew him.

One of Desmond's greatest passions was music. He found joy in listening to music and playing it. He was a proud member of VRCA (Vinyl Record Collectors Association) and he also, played music on Collector's Korner Now!, an internet radio station. His love for music and his cool and laid-back presence, and appreciation for life created cherished memories that will live on forever.

He leaves behind a loving family who will forever treasure his memory, including his beloved children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, siblings, extended family, and many dear friends whose lives were enriched by his love, wisdom, and generosity.

Although our hearts are heavy with sorrow, we are grateful for the many years we were blessed to share with him. His legacy will continue to live on in the hearts of all who knew and loved him.

Forever loved. Forever remembered. Forever in our hearts.
