Obituary

Irene Herrington Glover was born to Pauline Sanders Herington and Stoney Herington, Sr. at New York's Harlem Hospital on October 12, 1941. She was the first of three children. Her brother Stoney Jr. (who was lovingly referred to as "Winkie"; and her sister, Levenia Hartman Herrington. Sadly, both parents and siblings predeceased Irene.

Irene attended New York's Public Schools and graduated high school at the early age of 16. When she went on to college she received her degree in accounting. Which she used during her career.

Irene married Solomon Glover, Sr; and they had one son from this union. Solomon Jr. Irene was a generous person, especially when it came to her family. She tried helping others in any way that she could. "Reenie" as she was referred to by some friends loved fashion and traveling. When she stepped out the house you thought you were looking at a fashion model. She actually stunned people with her wardrobe when she walked into a room. Whether it be her fur coats or designer shoes, Irene was always sharp.

She worked at General Motors as an Accountant for a number of years. Then she enjoyed using her natural designing skills as a interior decorator at Denning and Focade.

Irene also loved cooking and dabbled in catering. She enjoyed buying all kinds of kitchen equipment. Her other source of entertainment was going to casinos. She enjoyed the surroundings and winning. She also liked having time to herself.

Irene leaves to remember her, her son; her deeply cherished grandson, Shaun Glover; Nieces, Shelly Goddard and Sherise Hartman Harris and nephews Thomas Julius and Myles Goddard and Rico Harris.

I'm Free

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free,
I'm following the path God laid for me.
I took his hand when I heard his call,
I turned my back and left it all.
I could not stay another day,
To laugh, to love, to work, to play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I've found that peace at the close of the day.
If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Ah yes, these things I too will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My Life's been full, I savoured much,
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch,
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free.
