Linda's Life and Legacy

Linda C. Bermudez, age 79, widow of Antonio Bermudez (formerly Linda C. Brown, maiden name; and Linda C. Griffin, former married name of Edward Griffin), lived in Somerset, NJ, and passed away in her sleep on November 5, 2026. Born on September 5, 1947, in Plainfield, NJ, to Arthur and Mildred Brown. Linda grew up with a zest for life and loved her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. She was a high school graduate of Plainfield High School in Plainfield, New Jersey.

Linda dedicated much of her life not only to her family but to her church. She has been a member of the Worldwide Church of God since the late 70s and raised all her children in what she considered an environment that changed her life. She dedicated her life to trying to be better, trying to be good to people, and anyone who crossed paths with her never forgot her. She was loved by many in this lifetime not only for what she said but also for what she did to make a small difference. Her spirit was infectious, and anyone would just want to sit and listen to the words and wisdom in what she was all about. Linda worked on and off throughout her life, aside from caring for the 6 children she raised. Many knew her from her time working at the Plainfield, New Jersey, Post Office in the 70s, at the Board of Education in the 80s, and, during the 90s and early 2000s, as a school bus driver and cafeteria aide. Linda was about making her money and getting money from her kids to treat herself!

Linda had many hobbies too. She sewed, she cooked, and she read her bible and read everything health-related. She was into holistic everything and took vitamins, herbs, made concoctions, smoothies, and invited everyone to try her new thing, whatever it was, especially with her Barley Green. She was the go-to for ailments. She was about everyone feeling better when they were sick. She usually had the fix. Additionally, given her non-denominational faith, she enjoyed spending time at her annual church retreats, especially during the Feast of Trumpets, Feast of Tabernacles, Passover, etc., and she enjoyed buying gifts for her family whenever she could save up. She was dedicated to tithing and remembered the many times her family received assistance from others. She enjoyed giving her time, and this was important to her in making a difference in any way she could.

Above all, she was a devoted, loving mother despite her faults. She knew she was not perfect, but she knew she loved hard. She was firm in what she stood for, but she tried her best to love all her children the best way she knew how. She will always be remembered for her great-smelling perfume, her beautiful face, and how good she always looked when it was time to go to church or any outing or event that required her to doll herself up. When it was time to get her hair done, she knew she looked good. She taught her children to love God. She taught them to stick together despite their differences and to be loving. Linda was full of grace and class, and she kept an infectious energy about her. She enjoyed her music and had a great time, especially in fellowship. She was also a prideful woman who expected all her children to be better, to do better than she because she believed that was the way to be. Keep growing and keep moving. Linda loved life; she loved everybody, and most of all she loved God.

Linda's beloved tribe: Linda died less than 3 weeks after the passing of her husband, Antonio Pedro Bermudez, whom she loved and married in October 1984. Linda had a brother, Arthur Brown Jr., married to Willa May Brown. Linda is survived by her six children, whom she deeply loved: Dr. Tina L. West, Schonda R. Harris, son-in-law Creg Harris Sr., Lisa D. Griffin, Candice D. Sykes, J.C. Best, Dr. Rebeca L. Segraves, and daughter-in-law Jenna Segraves. Linda also loved Latisha M. Griffin, her children's sister. Linda's grandchildren, whom she loved, include Darren Henderson Jr., Albert Stanley, Ayesha Henderson, Dejon Caldwell, Shaquille Henderson, Richard Stanley, Anthony Sykes, Jr., Marquis Martin, Creg Harris Jr., Myra'Cal West, and Elijah James Segraves. She also loved Al-Tariq Kornegay and Lunaria Abreu. Linda loved her grandchildren's fathers, including Derrick Caldwell (Deceased), Darren Henderson Sr., and Calvin West. She also loved Kayson Boyd Sr. Linda loved her great-grandchildren: Kayson Boyd Jr., Hazel Henderson, Kaiyon Boyd, Ayvah Boyd, Hope Henderson, Skylar Jenkins, Leilani Martin, Autumn Henderson, Saliyah Sykes, Rayne Caldwell, and all her future grands to come. She also loved their mothers, Cortinae Collins, Nicole Friday (Deceased), Iyanna Jenkins, Ashanti Lowery, and Moni Tull, as well as so many extended family members and friends from all walks of life.

The love our Beautiful Queen and mother gave us, and the lessons she taught, will stay with us forever. We will miss her every day, but we are comforted knowing she loved being a wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and beyond. There will never be another!

Linda's Children are grateful for the love and support of their dear mother.

Linda wished to be cremated with no viewing. A private repass will be held with immediate family.

Thank you for your understanding and condolences.

Peace, Love, and Blessings
