

I'm

Free

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me
I took his hand when I heard Him call
I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day.

To laugh, to love, to work or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I found that peace at the close of day.

If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it up with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Oh, yes these things I too will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, I savored much.

Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free!

Obituary

Doris Jean Scott was the only child born to the late Lonnie and Dora Mae Robinson on February 25, 1942 in Washington, D.C. The family soon relocated to Florence, South Carolina where she was raised for most of her childhood.

Doris moved to New York City to pursue a career in Practical Nursing at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital. In 1963, Doris met and married her first love, the late George Scott. During this union she gave birth to her first son, Tyrone. Shortly after, she gave birth to her second son, Gregory. Thereafter she met Douglas Fisher and out of that union she gave birth to her third son Gary and her one and only daughter, Tygiere.

Besides nursing, Doris was blessed to work in a few different careers. She worked for the city of New York at H.E.A.P for 10 years. She was a member of the NYC Housing Tenant Patrol for a number of years, and also the Kennedy Center Parents Committee where her daughter Tygiere attended. She later worked as a Teacher's Aide at All Saints Catholic School for 5 years until she retired.

On December 12, 2009, the Lord called Doris home to eternal rest after suffering for many months. Doris loved her family; she was always willing to plan birthday parties, homecoming day, BBQ's and many other family functions. Doris' favorite pastime was eating. There was never a time when she didn't have or expect a plate. Doris was the matriarch of the family and will be dearly missed.

She leaves to celebrate her life: her three sons, Tyrone, Gregory and Gary; her beloved daughter, Tygiere; daughters-in-law, Stephanie and Jennifer; grandchildren, TyAsia, Tygiere, Tyreen, Dominique, LaQuasha, Taheim, Patrice, Zyaire, Zion, Tylah, Tyera, Tyrae; two great-grandsons; her two devoted nieces Pamela and Nicole; and a host of other family members and friends.
