

Together

Again

Don't

*Don't spend too much time in mourning,
 Tears are for the sad;
 I left to be with Jesus
 And this should make you glad.
 Don't waste your hours in grieving,
 No need to feel distress;
 I'm tired of life's frustrations
 And had to get some rest.
 Don't puzzle yourself with questions
 Or try to reason why
 Life here for me was ended,
 It came my time to die.
 Don't lose the love I gave you
 Feed it with your care;
 Grow it with devotion
 And spread it everywhere.
 Don't fret because my leaving
 Came in such a way;
 We'll have another meeting
 In God's eternal day.*

Reflections of Life

Sammie L. Samuel was born November 23, 1929 in Erhardt, South Carolina to Sammy Samuel and Sadie Strong Samuel. She left this earthly life to be with her savior on May 26, 2010.

Sammie was educated in Florida and graduated from high school in St. Augustine, Florida. In 1959 she relocated to New York City.

She was a hard worker. Sammie worked for the Catholic Charities for twelve years and in that time she helped so many families that when she retired they still called her for help and advice and she would never turn them down, and when she wasn't able to physically be there for them her prayers were still being given to all she could not reach. On her daily travels you may have seen her speaking on the bus or train to reach people. That was her Legacy helping and teaching others

Sammie leaves behind: a loving daughter, Marbra Virginia West; four grandsons, James West, Sr., Lyndon West, Kit Stephnie West and Aaron Neal; five great-grand children, James West Jr., Omari West, Zoe West, Nasir West and Jami West; one great-granddaughter; cousins other relatives and friends.
