Remember Me

Remember me with a smile
Remember me without tears
Remember me as a fighter and as a lover
(the ones you loved and who loved you) and most importantly as a mother
Remember me for my heart
Remember me for my strength
Remember me for my love of life
Remember me for the memories we share
That even death can't take Remember the good and let the bad slowly fade
Remember to smile even when your sad
Remember that God is capable of healing all things
He will mend your broken spirits and remove your pain
If you get angry remember that I loved life but now I love peace and paradise So whenever you feel like you can't go on look to God and remember me
