My Lovin Heart

My lovin heart is my whole heart. Something that beats with the rhythm of my passion, and affection. The heart is a powerful thing, it can get broken or be broken, it can bleed with a strong hurting feeling. When you're in love with someone, or someone loves you, be aware of getting that lovin heart broken, or full with hurt and pain. A heart is a heart that beats until the good Lord calls you. But a loving heart is a heart that beats and flows forever. The reason why I say that is cause no matter how long you have been in love, or is in love, the pain is always their forever. You know why cause it's love.
