Obituary

Celeste Brown was born on January 29, 1951. She was the only child of Minnie Lawrence and Albert Brown, Jr.

She passed away peacefully in East Orange General Hospital on July 21, 2010.

Mother Teresa said “Every time you smile at someone, it is an action of love, a gift to that person, a beautiful thing”. Celeste gave everyone she knew a gift every day of her life, as she was known for her beautiful bright smile. She came into this world smiling and she left it the same way... although autistic, she taught us all an important lesson - “The world always looks brighter from behind a smile”.

Celeste is now reunited with her father.

She leaves behind: her mother, Minnie Lawrence; six aunts, Doris Ophelia, Elizabeth Rozier, Anna, Lorraine, Madeline and Venice; two uncles, Calvin and Ronald; three dear friends, Debra Jolie, Debbie M. and Bennie Whack; and a host of other relatives.

“The Shepard Comes”

On Wednesday, July 21, 2010 the Shepard came for me, one of his lost flock. He leads me to the gate of a pasture, in here grass was fresh and water flowed free. Wild flowers bloomed around by my feet, smelling so sweet. He gave me peace, calm and serenity. I'm setting you free, no pain or sorrow you'll see, just a smiling face will you see, you'll join the flock that are free, waters running smooth and free, pasture thats green. I the Shepard have came for thee my peace I give to thee.
