Reflections of Life

James P. Cobbs, Jr. aka “Boo” was born October 3, 1939 in Danville, Va. He was the son of James P. Cobbs, Sr. and Janie L. Cobbs who both preceded him in death.

James was raised in Danville, he attended Shiloh Baptist Church at an early age. He received his education in the Virginia school system. As a youth he worked for Judge Moore who went out of his way for wayward kids.

He was married to Dolores Robertson for many years who preceded him in death. This union was blessed with two children Wendy and James P. Cobbs, III.

James was employed at Expo Tobacco Factory in Danville, VA. He relocated to New York City and worked at Montefiore Hospital in New York City until he became disabled.

Boo was a very private person, but he missed his calling because he loved to tell stories and make people laugh.

As an adult he was not a member of any church, but 3 days prior to his death, he allowed his sisters Delores and Doniece to pray with him over the phone and he came to know and accept the Lord Jesus Christ as his personal Savior. His body winged its flight from the world of sin, sorrow and pain. God looked into his heart and bestowed upon him Love, Mercy and Forgiveness.

James leaves to forever cherish his memory; his two children, Wendy Cobbs and James P. Cobbs, III; two grandchildren, Brea and Iannn Cobbs; he leaves also to mourn him a devoted sister, Delores Ballard and brother-in-law Andrew Ballard, Jr. who extended love and care throughout his illness. He was the eldest of 13 children of which two preceded him in death, Rosa Simmons and Alphonso Cobbs. He leaves 10 surviving siblings, Kay F. Barksdale, Carolyn Cobbs, Laverne Saunders, Mildred Hassell, Sylvester Cobbs, Patricia Williams, Barry Cobbs, Janice Buggs and Doniece Cobbs and a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Sorrowfully Submitted The Family

Message To My Family

Don't Cry for me Family, for my God has received me. He has opened His doors. Do not think that I am gone, for as long as you are here my memory lives on, for I am at peace, oh how I've been blessed by being so Loved... Seek solace in each other, for together you're strong. This pain that you are feeling, Wont last very long.
