Obituary

Our beloved brother, Raymond "Stormy" Mazyck, Jr., was born on September 11, 1958, to the late Raymond Mazyck and the late Elizabeth V. Smalls in Charleston, South Carolina.

Raymond, known as Stormy was the fourth of the seven children of his late parents. During the 60 years that he lived, he lived a life characterized by simplicity, love and an embodiment of peace.

He had a tremendous respect for his family and people that he met in general. He demonstrated kindness by helping people to his best ability and was very caring.

Raymond started his elementary education in East Elmhurst Queens and completed it at P.S 183 in Brooklyn. He furthers his secondary education at J.H. S 275 in Brooklyn and graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in Brooklyn and received a High School Diploma. When he was in high school, he engaged in school work program, where he learned how to cook. After his graduation, he was offered to continue to work full time position at George Gershwin Junior High School. He took special pride in his work. He kept the full job after graduating for four years until he became ill and had to stop working.

He had passion for sport, especially Handball and Basket ball. He enjoyed watching Western movies and his favorite movie was Mobly Dick and to Kill a Mockingbird. He liked being independent and having his own apartment. He believed in a person to call his residence before visiting. He was the peace maker for the family.

He is survived by his siblings, Wilbur L. Mazyck, Sarah J. Mazyck-Holloman, and Burnetta Mazyck; nieces, Ellen Singleton, Veronica Cochran, Izette Dublin, Melissa Warthen, Christina Mazyck, Joyce Warthen and Imani Mazyck; nephews, Marcus Eason, Christopher Mazyck, Wilbur Mazyck, Sabastian Moore, Bryant Akien, and Taquan Mazyck, plus a host of grand nieces and nephews along with other extended relatives and friends. They all live in Brooklyn, New York with their families.

Raymond was one of the special brothers and deeply loved by sibling in the family and greatly missed.

Rest in peace, our beloved brother, until we meet again.

Special Tribute

*The light in the family has gone
The phone calls and your voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our heart and home
Which can never be filled?
It's a surprise the time was near
Farwell our dear baby brother
Your life is no more
Our love for you will last forever.
Good night Stormy, we will see you again
Your light will truly be missed*
