Obituary

Vincent "Money" M. Moore was born on March 28, 1972 in Montclair, New Jersey to Andrew E. Moore and the late Florine Sanford Moore. He grew up in West Caldwell, Orange, then East Orange. He attended Catholic schools in Newark, NJ.

Vincent worked as a landscaper and carpenter. Later in life, he obtained his certification in plumbing.

Loved most about Vincent was his sense of humor. For those that were close to him, you know he was a jokester! Although Vincent could be a handful and would talk-a-good-game at times, he had a personality that made him special. He always had a willingness to help others. He took after his mother in his love of cooking and caring for others.

You would always find Vincent taking food from the pantry to give to someone in need. He would cook meals to give to neighbors, family and friends. Like his mother, Vincent loved to cook and when she could no longer command the kitchen, Vincent took up the call and made sure that she and everyone else in the house got their meals.

Though Vincent was a master cook and baker, his true love was grilling. It could be 30 degrees below outside, yet he would be on the grill! He barbecued all year long. We still laugh about the time the grill blew up on him.

Vincent was the biggest movie critic of all time. He would sometimes be in his room, watching movie after movie. He would run downstairs from his room, stir his pots, flip his meat and run back upstairs to his movie.

Vincent's love for his daughter, Amani, was truly special. He was so proud of her and her accomplishments in school and sports. He would be on cloud nine when he spoke about her. He would share all the pictures he received of her with everyone. He was so thankful for her big sis, Quoyontae, and the other Cady kids. He was the son, brother, uncle, cousin, and friend who loved to stir up trouble one minute, then be loving and kind the next.

To his partner, his wifey, Damarra Gibson, we thank you. May God heal you of your sorrow.

Vincent leaves to cherish his memory his daughter, Amani Moore; wifey, Damarra Gibson; brothers, Glenn Sanford, Andrew Sanford, Malcolm Williams, and Jerome Williams; sisters Angela (Mark) Henderson and Judy (Robert) Callahan, and a host of nieces, nephew, cousins and devoted friends. Vincent's mother, Florine Sanford Moore, preceded him in death.

Vincent will forever hold a special place in our hearts.

Miss us but let us go.
We come to the end of the road,
And the sun has set for us,
We want no rites in gloom-filled rooms,
Why cry for souls set free?
Miss us a little--but not too long,
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared.
Miss us--but let us go.

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
Its all apart of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know,
And busy your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss us--but let us go.
