Obituary

Monica Imelda Henry-Eastman will be forever remembered by her husband and best friend Patrick Eastman. They were married for over 25 years and never left each other's side until the very end.

Monica was the child of the late Edmond Henry and Elfrida Richards; she was born on the 15th of March 1957. She attended the Saint Andrews Anglican Primary School at Cove and John, East Coast Demerara. Later, she was transferred to Bedford Methodist Primary School in Georgetown. She then attended South Georgetown Secondary School. After completing her Secondary Education, she joined the Guyana National Service, she started a course in Sign Language, she later continued and completed this course at Saint Roses High School. She also attended the Guyana School of Agriculture where she pursued a Diploma in Veterinary Studies. Upon completion, she joined the teaching fraternity at Paradise School. While teaching during the day she simultaneously attended the Cyril Potter College of Education in the evening and gained a Certificate as a Trained Secondary School Teacher.

She then migrated to Trinidad and Tobago where she spent a few years and later returned to Guyana. After a few years, she migrated to the United States of America and worked as a nursing assistant until her death.
