

Obituary

Leonard O'Neil Bridges was born June 29, 1935 to Lonnie and Maude Bridges. He grew up in Blakely, GA. He came to New Jersey as a young man. He married a young woman Loddie Flowers and to this union two children were born. Karen (Mark) Turner and Leonard Anthony Bridges. They had a wonderful life traveling, working to build their business together, and enjoying family and friends. He was a successful businessman having a busy gas station, apartment buildings and other businesses. In 1979 his beloved wife passed away.

After, sometime Len Bridges as he liked to be called met the love of his life Sadie Holden. They were married a built a new life for him. He loved being the manager of "Sister Sadie and the Biblettes". They enjoyed traveling and doing shows. He was close friends with members of "WNJR" RADIO and he enjoyed every moment of promoting the gospel shows with them. They were devoted to each other until her death in May 2020. The ultimate Romeo and Juliette he followed his love.

During all this time Len found time to spend much time with his children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. Taking the time to make him special for each and everyone of them. Whether it was working with him at the gas station, traveling on special trips with the family, or singing with the great grandchildren Pop Pop, Poppy, or Daddy left his special love with each of us.

He was predeceased in death by his father Lonnie Bridges, Sr. and mother Maude Williams Bridges, his sister Betty Jean Molden, his brother Lonnie Bridges, Jr..He leaves to mourn his daughter Karen (Mark) Turner, his sons Leonard Anthony Bridges and Duane Aurtis Holden, His great grandchildren Sanaiya Carlton, Raquel Carlton, Rahmon Carlton, Shahara Carlton, Tatiana Carter, Yanie Anderson, Aidan Hampton. And two great-great grand children Asshana Cambridge, and Dwyane Cottle. A loving God daughter Wandra Hartfield, and a host of cousins, nieces and nephews.
