Obituary

Cheryll Williams Watts, was the daughter of the late Howard and Deloris Wooten. From her parent's union came two children. Cheryl's brother Michael Cook Townsend preceded her in death. Cheryl was born January 7, 1949 in Newark, New Jersey and departed life Saturday, November 14, 2020. Cheryl matriculated through the Newark school system attending Miller Street School and she graduated South Side High School in 1968 now known as Shabazz High.

Upon completing high school Cheryl married Wayne Williams. From their union her beloved son Dwayne Williams was born. Later in life Cheryl married William Watts.

Cheryl was employed at General Electric Company as a secretary for approximately 10 years. Cheryl continued to enhance herself by becoming employed with New York Life Insurance Company for 25 years until she retired. Cheryl was taught by her mother the motto of Good Better Best never let it rest until your good is better and your better is best.

Cheryl was a dedicated daughter, mother and grandmother. She treasured her son Dwayne Williams and her grandson Justice Williams embracing every moment with them.

Cheryl had a vivacious personality and a melodious voice that made people around her laugh and enjoy her company.

Cheryl loved to dance and have fun. She loved loving on people and enjoyed her family and friends as well as the social organizations she belonged to. Cheryl embraced life on her own terms and lived it to its fullest.

Cheryl leaves to mourn, her beloved son Dwayne Williams of Newark, New Jersey, Her grandson whom she cherished Justice Williams of Newark, New Jersey, Herbert Middleton Jr. [AKA] Taurean Blacque of Atlanta, Georgia, Gwendolyn Williams of Willingboro, New Jersey, Reverend Miriam Hughes Shaw of Plainfield, New Jersey, Mrs. Yvonne Thomas of Willingboro, New Jersey and a host of cousins and friends.

Family Love and expression:

We don't think of you Cheryl as departed. You've only gone away. For life has so many facets and this earth is only one. We think of you as resting in a place where someone loved is never lost. We carry you in our hearts until tomorrows come. We loved you, but God loved you best

Sun Never Sets

Written by: La Roya H. Muhammad

The ray of my days may have set
But my sun still shines
When the new day emerges
In its glimmer you will find
A brightness of memories
An array of hope
A strength beyond measure
An ability to cope
For The Lord will light your path
And get you over the horizons
He'll assure you that tomorrow's sun
Will illuminate and continue rising
And after the morning dew
When the sun doth glistens
I'll be there warming your heart
With Divine and radiant visions.
