Reflections

DeAndre Mack was born on January 21, 1999 to Tamika Everett and Omar Mack at Mount Sinai Hospital in Manhattan. The second child of eight, he always showed unconditional love to his siblings and entire family. His love and devotion to all his family and friends was his legacy.

Early on as a student DeAndre enjoyed writing stories which were imaginative and entertaining. DeAndre started his educational journey in elementary school by attending Resurrection School in the Bronx. He continued onto The Manhattan School for Children in New York, NY where he graduated middle school and went onto Eagle Academy for Young Men in the Bronx, NY. During his last year in high school DeAndre took college classes at Bronx Community College which gave him credits towards college. He graduated Eagle Academy for Men with his diploma and continued onto Borough of Manhattan Community College. He attended a few classes there and later transferred to Bronx Community College. DeAndre didn't get to complete his college education due to his unforeseen untimely death.

DeAndre had an interest in music, movies, and films. He loved hip hop and he loved to rap and create his own lyrics. He can be seen in videos making his own music and being silly. His interest in movies and films led him to desire a career in Film Directing. His imagination, excellent communication skills, leadership qualities, and understanding everyone's feelings would have led him to a successful career in film directing. His dreams were cut short due to his untimely passing on January 18th, 2021.

Gentle and soft spoken would characterize his manner. Always presenting himself with a positive attitude, his kindness was often expressed through compliments to family and friends. His welcoming spirit was characterized by his generous, caring, honest manner. A sense of humor and festive ways brought him joy through social gatherings and family events. The people he cared about were never uncertain of his love and devotion. A part of our hearts will forever remain empty.

The impact DeAndre had on others was immeasurable. He protectively cared for and looked after his younger siblings with keen attention to detail by cooking, playing games and always lending an ear and offering sound advice. He took pride in being a great supportive big brother.

His expression of unconditional love was always to his entire family and each of his friends. DeAndre selflessly always tried to take care of those close to him, his mother, younger siblings, especially being devoted to his "Nana" Vivian Sagay, who he cared for with his loyalty, time, and love. He loved spending time with and adored his devoted grandmother, Darlene Kelley that he affectionately referred to as "Ma".

He leaves to cherish his memory: his mother, Tamika Everett; his brothers, TyShaune, DeVaune, Jayden, Justin, and Demetrius; sisters, Janiyah and Zara; in addition, his childhood friend that was also his brother, Tavon Mickie; grandparents, Darlene Kelley "Ma" (Ramon Lewis) and Ola Mack; great-grandparents, Vivian Sagay "Nana" and Frank Kelley, Sr. (Elizabeth Kelley); aunt and uncles, Frank Kelley, Jr. (Coleen Kelley), Robert Kelley, Erik Benford (Pamela Benford), Adrian Kelley (Alicia Kelley), Raymond Everett, Michael Howlett (Lois Howlett), Shirleen Everett, Izeffa Benford, Michelle Brown, Savasia Minor, Kim Atkins, and Terri Haven; Godmother, Renee Christie; and a host of cousins and friends.

DeAndre the Gift

What a gift you were was easy to see
 More precious than a diamond
 More pure than gold
 Heart as big as the sky
 Strength in spirit ever so bold

What a gift you were was easy to see
 What you gave to all you did meet
 Kindness, comfort and love
 A memorable smile so sweet

What a gift you were was easy to see
 Forever shall you remain in my heart
 For the joy and, affection you did bring but sadness for we had to part

What a gift you were was easy to see
 By the impression you leave behind
 How much you'll be missed
 What a void there will be
 For such loyalty is so hard to find

Love Auntie Kim
