OBITUARY

Andrea Deloris Slappy was born on October 1, 1972, in East Orange General Hospital to the late John Slappy and late Clara Deloris Williams. On February 10, 2021, she fell into the arms of the Lord at The University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey hospital located in Newark.

Andrea, affectionately known as “Drea ” grew up with great aspirations. After attending East Orange High School, Andrea began pursuing her interest as a beautician. Andrea was self-taught, perfecting her skills by providing services to members of the family which soon developed to countless clients, including members of her church.

During her life, Andrea went on to have five beautiful and amazing children, Cory Slappy., Terrell Slappy, Maurice Slappy, Derrell Slappy, and Melissa Mcpherson who collectively gave her eleven grandchildren. All of whom she endured and cherished. Andrea was a dedicated grandmother and provided her grandchildren with the same love and care while instilling morals, values, and the essence of self-respect.

Andrea, with her infectious smile, was a generous and kind person. The outpour of love and support of so many proved this to be true. Andrea unapologetically lived her life in the most positive and Godly way. She was a woman of few words, but rest assured her love of God spoke volumes with every engaging conversation.

Andrea loved everyone, especially her family and friends. However, she was very reluctant to impose or burden anyone with her problems. During her last days, it was all about family and less about her health concerns. Andrea was preceded in death by a sister, Kimberly Lynn Williams, and brother, Rondal Paul Williams and her mother Deloris Williams. Those left to cherish her memories are sisters Dawn Slappy and Robin Williams Lee and brothers David Williams, Tyrone Williams, Shawn Slappy, and Terrin Williams.
