Obituary

Margaret Janie Wood, lovingly known as Magoo, was born on May 19, 1965 at Cumberland Hospital in Brooklyn, New York to the late Glynda and John T. Wood. Through this union they had five children, Margaret being the second to the oldest.

Margaret received her former education through the New York City Public School System. She completed her studies at Maxwell Vocational High School.

Margaret was a loving and kind-hearted person who loved to shower her family, friends, and loved ones with gifts. She had a smile that would light up any room that she entered. Margaret was most happy when she gathered up her children, grandchildren, nephews, and little cousins to go outside on any little adventure. This is how she received her second nickname, Aunt Shirley, the fun aunt.

As a young child Margaret loved to dance. She joined the Calabash Dance Company where she performed at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, Dance Africa. She was always free spirited and loved spending quality time with family and friends. At a young age Margaret met the love of her life, Jeffrey Davis, better known as "Stymie." They were blessed with seven children. Margaret later relocated from Brooklyn to Coram, Long Island where she and her cousin Michelle Driver became the best of friends. She then became an assistant to Michelle in running the family business. The Dotson Family Housing Committee until her untimely death. She as a beautiful, caring, and loving soul gone too soon. We will miss you.

Margaret departed this life on Friday, April 2, 2021 to be joined in spirit with her loving parents Glynda and John.
