Obituary

Today, we are here to say goodbyes to someone who has impacted our lives either as a family member or close friend.

Jeffrey Bernard Moore the youngest son to Mr. & Mrs. William E. Moore. Born in Newark, New Jersey and as a small child relocated to the City of Orange, where he attended Orange High School. As a young adult he worked as a mechanic, something he enjoyed. He would later move to Montclair where he assisted in the raising of daughters Angela and Danielle Pitts.

We remember the good times we've shared and the memories created as we prepare to say goodbye. Jeffrey was known by many as Fu-quan. He could be funny....he loved to joke around. He could be serious at times...where he would be quiet and in thought. He also thought he was a chef. He would get all leftovers in the fridge and create a dish that he says, "Will make you smack yo momma!" (And jokingly, smack the closest person in the room). That was him in a nutshell.

Jeffrey is preceded in death by Parents: Williams & Lois Moore.

Siblings: Williams E. Moore Jr., James Moore, Robert Paden, William Paden, Gary Paden, Isaac Paden, Kevin Moore, Everette Moore, Irma Wiliford-Paden, Delores Paden, Rachel Paden, Juanita Paden, Sharon Paden, La Verne Moore. He leaves to carry on daughters Angela Pitts and Danielle Pitts, granddaughter, Aasiyah Johnson, grandsons, Asaad and Aaugust Pitts; also a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and close friends.

Our lives go on without you
But nothing is the same
We have to hide our heartache
When someone speaks your name

Sad are the hearts that love you
Silent are the tears that fall
Living here without you
Is the hardest part of all

You did so many things for us
Your heart was kind and true
And when we needed someone
We could always count on you

The special years will not return
When we are all together
But with the love in our hearts
You walk with us forever
