Obituary

Sandra Irving

Sandra Irving was born on January 30, 1946 at Harlem Hospital to the late Joseph Irving and Earline Jordan. Sandra attended elementary school at Public School 119 of Manhattan, Junior High School 136 of Manhattan and Benjamin Franklin High School. She was a full-time homemaker who's love and passion was expressed through caring for her family. Sandra departed this life and entered into her eternal rest on July 20, 2021 at Bronx Care Hospital. She will be profoundly missed by all who knew and loved her.

The Matriarch

Sandra was a devoted mother. She possessed a loving spirit that helped her family find meaning and purpose in their lives. She was a straight forward woman known to communicate with a dose of spice. One of her favorite phrases was "I'MA TEAR YOUR ASS UP". She enjoyed her life to the fullest. Not a day went by that she wasn't tuned in on time to watch her favorite television shows Martin and Fatal Attraction. She enjoyed music, especially music by Chris Brown. She had such a love for dancing that she danced with her favorite buddy, "that Cane".

The Loved Ones That Preceded Sandra

Sandra was preceded in death by her mother (Earline Jordan), father (Joseph Irving), brother, (David Irving), sisters, (Delores Irving-Mitchell and Sylvia Irving-Coleman), three nephews (Troy Irving, Anthony Irving and Mark Mitchell), and her grandson (Rayvon Irving).

The Loved Ones Left Behind

Sandra leaves to cherish her memories and is survived by her sister, Patricia Irving; her six children, Daniel Laboyd, Kevin Ewell (daughter-in-law, Tanya Ewell), Pamela Irving, Allison Ewell (son-in-law, Leroy Parker), Rachel Ewell (son-in-law, Kelvin Williams), and Raymond Ewell; and her goddaughter, Bridget Wilson. She also leaves behind 22 grandchildren, 15 great grands, and a host of nieces, nephews, and close friends.

We Love You Sandra...

My Grandmother

Today we give my grandmother her last farewell. We choose to give her a celebration. This woman built an entire legacy. Take a look around. Take a look at the front row. She gave birth to a group of children and molded them into Kings and Queens. My grandmother wasn't always perfect, but in this world, who is? My grandmother was strong and she fought for her life! That is the way I choose to remember her. I choose to remember the love that she had for each one of us. I felt her love every time I was around her and I'm sure all of you did too. I choose to remember her laugh. I choose to remember that tune that she hummed every single day. My grandmother taught me that when someone does wrong they deserve an opportunity for a second chance. They deserve forgiveness and you owe it to yourself to come out stronger in the end. That's what she did!

So we celebrate her together, today and every single day that we are here. We will love on each other. We're going to be strong and support each other together. Here's to you beautiful. We will keep your name in love and light!

Acknowledgement

The Family of Sandra Irving would like to express our sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness bestowed upon us during this time of bereavement. Your cards, phone calls, visits, and other good deeds will linger in our hearts.

May the Lord bless you all. ~ The Family
