Obituary

Troy C. Wright was born on August 1, 1967 in New York City to parents, Jannie M. Wright and the late Herman Wright. Troy was raised and nurtured in the Bronx, New York, as an only son he was a bit pampered and spoiled.

Troy attended school in Bronx, NY. He was accepted to Lehman High School for the Gifted Arts Program where he excelled, but went on to earn his GED scoring above average. Troy also studied and became a certified Electrician apprentice. Troy was employed seasonally, but due to injury he was left physically disabled and his career ended early.

Troy was a talented animation artist as well as a ferocious reader; he was well versed in world and social events. He enjoyed spending time with his family and friends where he would entertain with unimaginable storytelling. He was loyal, smart, entertaining and a good person to have in your presence. Terribly missing the sound of his voice as he would say “Can I get a hug?”.

Troy met the love of his life in 2018, his legal life partner/wife, Chavell whom we all adored. She was his anchor and strength, the two of them were unstoppable, but unfortunately her health declined and she preceded our brother in death, a loss Troy never fully recovered from.

Our beloved brother leaves to mourn: mother, Janie M. Wright; siblings, Millicent Wright, Michelle Wright and Vickie Wright; nephew, Montel L. Strong; nieces, Stephanie Wright, Brittany Colman and Ashely Shaw; great nephew, Chase Sapp; great nieces, MaliRose Strong and Bellamey Strong; all extended family members, aunts, uncles, and cousins in New York City, New Jersey and South Carolina; and friends, acquaintance and lovers he’s met during his short journey of life here on earth.

The Final Flight

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free, I'm following the path God laid for me. I took His hand when I heard His call, I turned my back and left it all. I could not stay another day, to laugh, to love, to work, to play. Tasks left undone must stay that way. I've found that peace at the end of the day. If my parting has left a void, then fill it with remembered joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, ah, yes these things too I will miss. Be not burdened with times of sorrow, I wish you sunshine of tomorrow. My life's been full, I savored much, good friends, good times, a loved one's touch. Perhaps my time seemed all too brief, don't lengthen it now with undue grief. Lift up your heart and share with me. God wanted me now, He set me free.
